THE INSATIABLE WAVES.

Steadily Gauging Their Way Into Long

Island's Southern Coast.

The shores of the southern Long Island coast are constantly changing.

Nowhere is this more manifest than at Coney Island. Henry Freyhaugen, one of the oldest residents on the island, says that within his memory fully a mile of the south and west shores of the island have been eaten up by the inroads of the sea.

The visitor to the low sandy beach of Coney Island at the present day can form but little idea of the appearance of Coney Island of 1750 or 1830.

Said Mr. Freyhaugen: "In no place along the south shore have such extraordinary changes been made by the ocean as here. When I was a boy, my uncle, Court Lake, told me that in his younger days he cut a lot of red cedar posts, six inches in diameter, at the beach, on a part of Coney Island which is now two miles at sea under the Atlantic ocean. He said that the island had been cut away more than a half in his time. Any of the old settlers here will tell you, and the State surveys will bear them out, that the Coney Island beach in the last century was composed of high and extensive sand hills where now all is flat beach or else under water. I have cut grass on a part of the island just west of the point from which the Brighton Beach Hotel was recently moved. That meadow is a half mile from the shore under water now, and is also the site of a little wood of West Brighton, where my father used to cut fuel. Between that wood and the shore used to stand a dwelling house known as the "Old Snydman Place," which was washed away shortly before I was born. My father could recollect when there was a long reef of rocks in plain sight off shore toward Rockaway. The reef disappeared years ago.

"The island is being blown away as well. You may laugh at this notion, but it is true, nevertheless. There is more sand on Coney Island now than there used to be. The sea has not been pounding and grinding the pebbles all these years for nothing. It makes sand as fine and light as dust. The eastly gales blow this sand inland, moving it along in little hillocks, one part rolling over another as it does so. Hills are cut down and built up by the elements. The hillocks last winter did much work of this kind.

Ponds inland are filled up, and converted into meadows. Look at the little creek which barely separates Coney Island from the Long Island shore. It used to be a big arm of the sea. Now it is nearly filled up by these driving sand storms which block the channels, causing the sluggish currents to make additional deposits and so create land.

"The sea tides, too, are cutting the coast away terribly. Take, for instance, Hog Island inlet. Many go down there just to see the tide rush.

The inlet is working westward all the time, and will ultimately carve Rockaway into pieces. The surf is responsible for this. It piles sand and debris into the channel of the inlet on the east side, and tides come in. This deposit of sand tends to obstruct the tide, which cuts away and washes into the east end of Rockaway Beach to make room for itself. This cutting

JUMPING SAM PATCH.

The Interesting Recollections of an Old

Farmer.

A grizzled old farmer named William P. Brown was in Middletown, N. Y., the other day, and fell to giving reminiscences of Paterson as he remembered the place sixty years ago. "I was born on Manhattan Island," he said, "when all the upper part was nothing but farms and lands, and I went to work in a cotton-spinning factory in Paterson as a sweeper and errand boy when I was eleven years old. Paterson was a small place then, and the factory was a small affair, too, but one of the owners was Sam Patch, who afterward became famous as a high jumper. I saw him make his first big jump at Pussall falls.

"The story of the jump is this: Sam

Patch and a man named Brannigan were partners in the factory and they failed in business. Sam was a Cape Cod man by birth, and had been a seaman from a boy. He came to Paterson. He was a daring and rock-less fellow and could swim like a duck.

It is said that while he was a sailor he often exhibited his skill and daring by jumping from the high masts of ships into the sea. After the failure Sam Patch hung around Paterson with nothing to do until he got pretty hard up. Then, I suppose, the thought occurred to him that he could make a name for himself by jumping off the Pussall falls. No notice was given that at a certain day and hour Sam

Patch would jump off the cliff at the falls into the river below, a distance of about eighty feet, for a purse of fifty dollars, made up by some of the sports of the town. Few people believed that he would make the jump, but there was a big crowd on hand to see it all the same.

"Sam came to the falls stripped to his undershirt and drawers. He showed no fear or nervousness, but his face was flushed, as I thought, by drink.

He took a couple of small stones in his hands and went to the brink of the cliff and dropped them off one after the other, and watched where they struck the water down below. Then he walked back a few yards and turned back a little run to the brink of the cliff and jumped off, clearing the rocks about ten feet. He went down feet first, but with his body inclining considerably to one side, and in this shape he struck the water and disappeared. A few seconds later his head bobbed up at a point down stream, and he began paddling for the shore. Then the crowd gave him a big cheer.

"Sam's jump at the Pussall falls was considered a marvelous feat in those days, and made him famous country over. So he took to jumping for money from the masts of ships and from bridges and other high places, and went about the country giving exhibitions. Unfortunately for him, he took up another practice that soon cut his career short. I didn't see him make his last jump at the Guinness falls at Rochester, November 13, 1829, but those who did see the tragedy tell me that when he approached the brink to make the leap of 125 feet into the seething pool below he was dazed and unsteady from drink. He made the jump so bung-lingly that he struck the water flatwise instead of feet first, the concussion

WEDDING BELLS.

JONES—STEELE.
Mr. Lucien Jones, of this city, was married to Miss Susie H. Steele, of Trigg county, yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the residence of Judge John W. McPherson, in the presence of only the relatives of the contracting parties and a few intimate friends.
After the ceremony by the Rev. John C. Tate, of Clarksville, the bridal couple took the 10 o'clock train for a trip East.
The bride is a daughter of the late Dr. Moses Steele, of Trigg county, and is the most estimable lady. Mr.
Jones is president of the City Bank and is well known in this city and section. Their many friends wish them a safe return from their bridal trip and a long and happy union.
On their return home and board will be taken at Mr. Thomas Jones, brother of the groom.

HENDERSON—ANDERSON.
Mr. F. F. Henderson and Miss Florence Anderson were united in marriage by Rev. J. N. Prentiss last Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. R. M. Anderson, father of the bride. There were quite a number of relatives and friends present. After receiving congratulations Mr. and Mrs. Henderson took the train for Louisville. From there they will go to Cincinnati and other points, and will return in a few days. Mr. Henderson is one of the most industrious and energetic young men of our city. He has won the affections of a lovely and amiable woman and the numerous friends of each wish them all the happiness of a married life.

DOWNING—BLAIR.
Mr. Robert Downing will be married to Miss Eugenia Blair, the leading lady of this city, who played the part of Julia in the Gladiator at the Opera House last night, at Detroit, Michigan, on the 20th inst.

Come Over and See Your Old Pard.

"Col. Will S. Hays, the great songwriter of Louisville, is over at Hopkinsville. Come over here, Will, and see your old pard."—Clarksville Chronicle.

To which invitation Col. Hays replies as follows:
When I was a boy life's summer was sweet And the bright face of youth was not brown, My young heart was light As my brown eye was bright, When I lived in your beautiful town, The first time I saw you at the door of my heart
And I thrilled my whole being, somehow, With a rapturous kiss
From the lips of a maid, Who, I'm told, is a grandmother now.
There lived in your town, at that time, a bright boy
A smart and intelligent elf, With whom I did run—
And we saw "hole of fun"— I liked him as part of myself.
We were "partners" in trouble, in pleasure and in joy,
And we seldom were seen far apart,
And no matter what place,
All the smiles in his face Were like sunbeams of love from his heart.
But his sister's a gray-headed grandmother now,
And her brother lies under the soil,
And my eyes fill with tears When I think of the years That have gone since his soul went to God, For I loved him as well as his sister loved me, Though thus parting in boyhood was hard.
On that bright shore, some day, She will be looking for me,
"Come over and see your old pard,"
Will S. Hays.
Hopkinsville, Phoenix Hotel, Nov. 14, '88.

HERE AND THERE.

Coop your Christmas turkey.
Meat has fallen 10 cents on the barrel.
Long, Garnett & Co. insure tobacco barns.
Good night, Hunter (not Wood).
Don't Breath-(jitt)—It's Jolly.
Apples were never so plentiful at this time of the year.

A few more felts and trimmed goods at very low prices to close the season, at Miss Alice Hays's.

The cases on Judge McPherson's docket are being disposed of as rapidly as possible.

Dr. Andrew Sargent now has telephonic connection with his residence.
His number is 95.

The President of the Ohio Valley Railway says he will take out part of this year's tobacco crop. That sounds like business.

The steel rails for the section of the Ohio Valley road to run from Princeton to Hopkinsville has already been purchased.

If the railroad company would supply a large lantern to the east care of the depot it would have the gratitude of the public.

A committee from this city went to Knoxville last Tuesday night to examine into plans for building the Cairo & Tennessee River Railroad.

When Messrs. Collins & Price are working on the court house and combining the stone work it will look as nice as a Christmas doll.

Workmen are now engaged in working on the curbing on North Main street. When the pavement is laid it will be a continuous line from the stone bridge to the entrance of the new cemetery.

The Cadiz Hotel, which was built by Thos. H. Grinter, deceased, was sold at public auction last Monday.
It was bought by Daniel L. Grinter, a son of the builder, for $8,775.
The original cost was $14,000.

Dr. T. W. Blakey has been appointed pension examiner at this place, vice Dr. R. M. Fairleigh, deceased.
Dr. Blakey is an excellent man in every way and is a worthy successor of his lamented partner.

Judge J. T. Savage, who has been in the revenue service for three years, will locate again in Hopkinsville after Mr. Harrison goes into office. Had the railroad tax been defeated he would have made his home in Owensboro.

Capt. Ben Underwood is mentioned as a probable applicant for postmaster here. The Captain is a clever man and a staunch Republican—but Mr. Harrison will find no trouble in finding plenty of clever men here on whom to bestow his appointments.

Emmitt Gant, the ten-year old colored boy who was run over by the traction engine last Saturday, died last Wednesday morning. The little fellow suffered intensely before his death. The physicians amputated the leg that was crushed Tuesday.

As to where the new depot will be located is a question of much speculation. Some have chosen part of Mrs. Means' field on North Main street, while others have spotted a place on South Main near the residence of Mr. William Trice. "Spice we wait a few days longer, at least until the surveyors come along.

An election was held yesterday for the election of Directors of the Christian County Driving Park for the coming year, which resulted as follows: R. H. Holland, W. H. Cooper, C. F. Jarrett, Joe Frankel, E. G. Se-bro, W. S. Davidson and A. D. Rodgers. The President, Secretary and Treasurer are elected by the Directors.

We heard a gentleman remark yesterday that he believed the Cairo & Tennessee River Railroad would be built by Jay Gould, as he would like to connect with his Iron Mountain road at Cairo. Of course this is all speculation. We had about as soon have the road built by Gould as anybody else. What we want is the road.

It is probable that Mr. J. S. Forey, now with Forbes Bros., will be applicant for the postmastership at this place. We know of no one more competent than Mr. Forey, and no doubt his appointment would be highly satisfactory to our people generally. As a Republican he is to be loathed, the incoming administration could not select a better man in their party than Mr. Forey to give it to.

Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Sargent confirmed a number of their friends last Tuesday at their residence on North Main street, it being the 5th anniversary of their marriage. There were present Mr. and Mrs. T. W.
Long, Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Blakey, Mr. S. Walton Forsy, Mr. and Mrs.
H. J. Sikes, Mr. and Mrs. J. W.
Downer, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Wood, Miss Olivia Thompson, Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Dahney, and Mr. and Mrs. J.
K. Gant.

Herdon & Major is the style of the new Clarksville tobacco firm that has succeeded Herndon, Hallums & Co. A card of the new firm will be found in this issue announcing their willingness to serve the farmers and give them the benefit of their long experience in handling and selling their tobacco. Mr. Herndon is well known in this and adjoining counties and is conceded to be a thoroughly posted tobaccoist. Tom Major is well liked by all and universally popular. These two gentlemen form a strong firm and can feel sure of being remembered by the farmer when he consigns his tobacco.

Complaint comes to us of a lot of black street gamblers who nearly take possession every afternoon of the sidewalk extending from Clay street to the depot. They have, in fact, become a nuisance. Fourteen or more of them seem to imagine that they own that part of the city and congratulate there to swap oaths and use all the vulgar language they have ever heard. Ladies often have to walk aside or wait until the rascals make up their minds to let them pass. Several of their names have been taken down and the police will soon be after them if they do not stay away.
When they see the police coming they make themselves scarce until the officers have passed, but that game will not last much longer.

The Republicans of the city distributed at the Court house last Tuesday night to fix a time and determine plans for ratifying the election of Harrison and Morton. Our friends on the other side of the fence turned out in large numbers and perfect arrangements were made for a demonstration on a big scale. The time when they propose to celebrate their victory is Friday night, the 23d inst.
All parts of the county will send delegations and the town will be painted very red. They are going to have a torch-light procession, transparencies, cords, floats, and in fact will try and do just as the Democrats did four years ago.

There is a desire on the part of our citizens that the time for the departure of the Nashville accommodation train should be changed to a later hour. The train now leaves at 5 in the morning, which is entirely too early, especially during the winter months. For a man to take breakfast at home before leaving he must get up as early as 4 o'clock. If the train is to be really an "accommodation" it should not pull out of Hopkinsville earlier than 6:30. A person can then get into Nashville and transact his business before starting back in the afternoon. We hope the railroad authorities will consider the matter and change the time.

A difficulty occurred between Dr.
H. S. Wood and his foreman, Thos. B.
Lancaster, on the farm of the former, in Trigg county, Monday, which resulted in Lancaster cutting the Doctor in two places, the weapon used being a corn-knife. The wounds are not of a serious nature. Lancaster was arrested by constable Deering, a short while after the difficulty, and taken to Cadiz, where he was placed under a $500 bond for his appearance on the 30th day of the month to answer the charge of cutting with intention to kill.

Last evening was a most enjoyable one at Bethel Female College. Col.
Will S. Hays read several of his poems and sang a number of original songs, much to the delight of the young ladies of the school and several ladies and gentlemen who were present by special invitation. This is the Colonel's first visit to the city, and our people would be glad to have him remain longer. They will respectfully request that he expects to leave to-day for Paducah. It is hoped that he may find it convenient to pay us another visit soon.

About two years ago the city anthorities broke up the deceptions of the coal thieves, and the railroad company and others who were suffering from the raids made upon their cars and coal houses did not find it necessary to be on the continual watch-out to protect themselves. But the same old complaint reaches us that the thieves are again at their old practices. This robbery should at once be stopped, and the authorities should use every exertion to bring the guilty to justice.

Capt. Ned Campbell, recently of Hopkinsville, always a staunch Republican, and a soldier of the late war, is an applicant for the Henderson postmastership. Capt. Campbell at the time of Cleveland's election was associated in the revenue service, and made, as the Gleaner is informed, a very acceptable official. He is well acquainted with the King bees of his party, and will make it warm to his competitor, whoever it may be.
—Henderson Gleaner.

Our issue to-day will find a beautiful little poem by Col. Will S.
Hays, who has been in the city several days. The Colonel is as full of poetry as a ballot box of Republican ballots this year. Since Col. Hays has been in Hopkinsville he has composed a new comic song, which he called the "Cush-footed Nigger and the Pacing Mule." The words are already set to music and will be copyrighted.

The inspectors of the whole L. & N. system passed through here yesterday at 10 o'clock. The train was made up of a parlor car, a sleeper, dining and smoking cars. The inspectors pass the line once a year and live like kings while on the trip.

L. G. Williams & Co., took $135 out of their safe the next morning after the fire. The bills were not singled. The safe has gone through two fires.

"WORLD-MAKING."

A Flight Through Space to the Planets and an Excursion Through the Center of the Earth.

The second of a series of lectures under the auspices of the Chautauqua Circle was delivered at the Methodist Church last Monday night by Hon.
Samuel Phelps Leland, of Chicago, to a large and appreciative audience.
Mr. Leland's lecture, "World-Making," has been delivered in most of the cities and larger towns of Kentucky, and the comments of the press are all of a most complimentary nature.

After a song by Col. Will S. Hays, Mr. Leland began his lecture and consumed about two hours in its delivery, yet no one seemed to become at all tired. Nothing short of his repetition could give any one not present an idea as to what it was.
To the lover of popular science and the student of astronomy the lecture was particularly interesting, while the less informed did not fail to accompany the speaker on his trip through the center of the earth; his voyage around it, and witnessed the turning of the leaves of the earth which tells to the geologist of what it is composed and the time required; how by the process of "digestion," clark, limestone, granite, coal, etc., are formed; his flight through space from our world to the sun and moon; flying visits to Mars, Venus, Jupiter, Saturn, Neptune, and his theory of how those and other planets came into existence, claimed the closest attention of his hearers. In hearing him one could not fail to think of Byron's Cain. Mr. Leland's description of the recent eruption of Vesuvius of which he was an eye-witness, was the grandest piece of work-painting we have ever heard. It seemed to the listener that he was almost transported to the mountain side and to could see the stupendous watching their flocks, and at the same time busily plying the needle, with children playing on the green grass, the lamb gamboling here and there—but bark! listen to that ominous sound proceeding from the bowels of the earth; the earth trembles; the waters of the bay just now so clear that you could see the pebbles at the bottom are in instant murky and thereupon the waves begin to roll upon its placid surface; the mountain sides expand and contract; everything animate has fled to a place of supposed safety; the mountain expands again, and like a giant clearing his throat, Vesuvius throws into the air hundreds of feet high stones weighing several hundred pounds. A pencil can do nothing in the way of describing it—words only can do it, wordspoken by such a man as Mr. Leland, one only who has witnessed that great convulsion of nature can paint the true picture. The only unpleasant part of the lecture was when Mr.
Leland informed his audience that our world can not stand as it is more than about thirteen hundred years—then it is going to freeze into a lump of solid ice, (there'll be no use for factories) and finally we will go into the sun and warm up again. His hearers did not mind that on their own account, but many of them were neu-speak about their posterity. The speaker believes the scriptural prophecy, "The earth shall melt with fervent heat" to mean that our planet will, after passing into its frozen state, fall into the sun and become liquid, and after many millions of years, be thrown from the sun and a new world formed by the union of the particles. This is his theory of how all worlds are made. He said that lack of this process of world-making is the power of God, who knows no limit of time, with whom one day is as a thousand years and a thousand years as one day. The lecture throughout was interesting and showed the deepest study and comprehensive research of the speaker.

At the conclusion Col. Hays excused himself for not favoring the audience with another song on account of a throat trouble. However he read "Keep your hand upon the throne and your eye upon the track," his own composition, which only partly satisfied them, as they were anxious to hear another song.

A man who has practiced medicine for 40 years, ought to know salt from sugar; read what he says.
Toledo, O., Jan. 10, 1887.

Messrs. F. J. Cheney & Co.—Gentlemen:—I have been in the general practice of medicine for most 40 years, and would say that in all my practice and experience, have never seen a preparation that I could prescribe with as much confidence of success as I can Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by you. Have prescribed it a great many times and its effect is wonderful, and would say in conclusion that I have yet to find a case of Catarrh that it would not cure, if they would take it according to directions.

Yours Truly,
L. L. GOTSCH, M. D.
Office, 215 Summit St.
We will give $100 dollars for any case of Catarrh that can not be cured with Hall's Catarrh Cure. Taken internally.

Serious Cutting at Caledonia.

Two colored men, Sam Wadlington and Buel Thomas, met in the road near Caledonia last Sunday night and engaged in a fight. An old feud was to be settled and no one was near, so they proceeded at once to right their differences in short order. Buel drew a large knife and made a rake at Wadlington, cutting him at one stroke from under the right arm around to the left side, downward across the abdomen, the knife going through to the entrails. Buel left his victim in the road. Not long after Wadlington was found still alive and removed and cured.

But, we are told, was arrested and afterwards made confession. He is now in the Cadiz jail awaiting his trial at the next sitting of the Trigg Circuit Court. Wadlington will hardly recover from his wound.

Grange Warehouse.

CLARKSVILLE, TENN., NOV. 1.—The firm of Herndon, Hallums & Co. having expired this day by limitation, we beg to announce to the tobacco trade and the public that we will continue the warehouse business at "the old stand," under the style and firm name of Herndon & Major, at the Grange Warehouse, where we will be pleased to receive all of our former patrons and all others who may favor us with their patronage or their good will. A welcome greeting to all. It will be impossible for either of us to canvass the country to any great extent, because our presence is so constantly needed and required in the house during the greater part of our work in person. We promise in the future, as in the past, to give every part of the work our personal presence and attention. The public knows whether these premises have been fulfilled in the past or not, and we can give no other guarantee for the future. The Grange Warehouse, which has been our business home for the past twelve years, is being rebuilt from its very foundations in the most complete and substantial manner of the best material in use, the walls all being of brick; the entire structure being two stories high, besides basement, which more than doubles its present storage capacity and dispenses with our numerous sheds.

Politics in Congress.

From the beginning of the rebellion up to 1874 the Republican party had a large majority in both branches of Congress. In the election which took place in 1874, however, the Democrats secured a plurality of about sixty in the house of Representatives, and a majority of about forty-four over the Republican and Liberal and Independent members. This was the House of the Forty-fourth Congress, which met in December, 1874. In the Forty-fifth Congress the Democratic plurality was thirteen, and in the Forty-sixth it was sixteen. The Republican party carried the House of the Forty-seventh Congress by eleven plurality, but in the Forty-eighth the Democrats turned once more in favor of the Democracy, and that party has continued every house of Representatives since then. Its plurality was eighty-four in the Forty-ninth Congress, forty-three in the Forty-ninth, and it is fifteen in the Fiftieth. The Democrats have never in the past had the majority in the Senate since the war except in the Forty-sixth Congress, which opened in December, 1879, when their plurality was nine. From March 4, 1889, the Republican party, for the first time since the 14th of March, 1875, will find itself in control simultaneously of the executive branch of the government and of both houses of the National Legislature. In the Forty-seventh Congress the Senate was a tie, although that body was organized and dominated by the Republicans. The exact plurality which the Republicans will have in the Forty-eighth Congress is not known at this writing.
